Listing of the Claims:

1 – 17. (Canceled)

18. (Original): A method, comprising

determining topography information regarding a client's face by moving a scanning head of a non-contact scanning device relative to the client;

determining position information of the scanning head as the scanning head is moving; and determining a computerized model of the client's face by correlating the determined position information and the determined topography information.

19. (Original): The method of claim 18, further comprising modifying the computerized model of the client's face.

20. (Original): The method of claim 18, further comprising modifying the computerized model of the client's face with user input.

21. (Original): The method of claim 18, further comprising modifying the computerized model of the client's face with computer assisted interpolation.

22. (Original): The method of claim 18, further comprising sending the computerized model of the client's face to a computerized manufacturing device to form a solid model.

23. (Original): A method, comprising

determining topography information regarding a client's face by moving a scanning head of a non-contact scanning device relative to the client;

substantially simultaneously determining position information of the scanning head and capturing topography information while moving the scanning head; and

determining a computerized model of the client's face by correlating the determined position information and the determined topography information.

24. (Original): The method of claim 23, further comprising modifying the computerized model of the client's face.

25. (Original): The method of claim 23, further comprising modifying the computerized model of the client's face with user input.

26. (Original): The method of claim 23, further comprising modifying the computerized model of the client's face with computer assisted interpolation.

27. (Original): The method of claim 23, further comprising sending the computerized model of the client's face to a computerized manufacturing device to form a solid model.

28 – 43. (Canceled)
